We can ship to virtually any address in the world.

Shipping costs will vary depending on the size and weight of the item, where the item is going, and the type of shipping you choose.

When you place an order for an item that is in stock, we will ship it within one week. If an item you order is out of stock, we will ship it when it becomes available to us.

We will not charge your credit card or debit card for an item until that item is shipped.

Our product donation prices include standard shipping to locations in the United States.
